From The President:

It's March already. Hopefully there are signs of spring in the neighborhood. Despite the cold and snow we have had the past couple weeks, I have seen people out and about walking, cycling, and riding electric skateboards. There are always people getting out and about in the 'hood.

We are looking forward to Spring. Our YART Sale is Saturday March 30th! Kickball at Hobbs Park will begin in May!

Some things we are keeping an eye on.

The physical rebuild of E. 9th Street . The work on phase 2, the eastern half, is slated to continue in March. Between the two phases of street construction workers have been focusing on rebuilding sidewalks. It is scheduled to be finished before the Food Truck Fest on May 4th.

The HUB Project. This is the Student Housing Development proposed for 11th and Massachusetts and New Hampshire Street. The one with 615 beds and 272 parking places that will impact the character of Downtown. It will be on the Historic Resources Commission (HRC) Agenda on March 21st.

Bike Boulevard on 13th Street. The City held 2 public input sessions with their hired consultants to give neighbors a sense of what a bike boulevard might look like. The goal is to lower speeds and decrease auto traffic along the street. This will connect the Burroughs Creek Trail / Lawrence Loop to the newly created bicycle lanes along Massachusetts Street. Design proposals should be ready for the April Transportation Commission Meeting.

Conservation Overlay. The HRC wrote a letter to the City Commission asking that they authorize planning staff to begin work on Design Guidelines for our Neighborhood. Watch for details emerging from that.

Rebuilding East Ninth Together Art Project. The 3rd listening session will be on March 3rd at the newly remodeled Santa Fe Depot from 2 – 5 pm. Work is progressing in this Community Arts Project.

Prairie Block Project. KU Architecture Students have teamed up with Parks and Rec to build a Park Shelter at 15th and the Burroughs Creek Trail in the Park there. There will also be a short nature trail that will offer interaction with the creek. Watch for a Community Party on National Trails Day on June 1st!

Lots of things are happening in East Lawrence. Come join the fun and get involved! Our meetings are now on the 2nd Monday of the month, and in March we will meet at Delaware St. Commons. We hope to see you!

Come To the YART Sale!

Come one, come all, to the annual ELNA YART (yard/art) Sale! This year's sale will be Saturday, March 30th, 8am-2pm, in the New York School Gym. The YART sale is ELNA's biggest annual fundraiser, where neighbors donate their gently used items to sell, local artists vend their creations, and we are all entertained by our neighborhood musicians.

The YART sale is always a great place to mingle with neighbors and find treasures – we hope you will join us!

AND we need your help to make the event a success.

New York PTA Update, Trauma Informed Schools

TRAUMA INFORMED SCHOOLS INFORMATIONAL MEETING & SCHOOL DANCE: April 12th

Focus of this year's PTA:

Student's Social and Emotional Learning

New York Elementary PTA is planning an event to educate parents, guardians, and community members on what it means to be a “Trauma-Informed School.” Stay tuned for a date and time for this event by following the New York PTA Facebook page, and by attending PTA meetings on the first Thursday of every month. If you're interested in joining the subcommittee that is planning this event, please email Jamie St.Viva at jamiest.viva@outlook.com

Do you know the answers to the following questions?

- What is the percentage of students at New York Elementary who need higher levels of support for social and emotional learning?
- What is considered the “average” percentage of students in our district who need additional support for social and emotional learning?
- Why is the focus of this year’s PTA about improving social and emotional learning?
- What does it mean to be a “Trauma-Informed School?”
- What steps is New York Elementary currently taking to become a “Trauma-Informed School?”
- What kind of services does the WRAP program offer?
- What services does our School Counselor provide?
- What is a CI3T Model of Prevention?

After our short event with answers to these questions, we'll have dinner provided by the PTA, and a SCHOOL DANCE hosted by the Student Leaders Club.

Jayhawk Area Agency on Aging Summary of Services and Event

The Jayhawk Area Agency on Aging is active and available to serve the needs of seniors in our community. JAAA works with adults 60 and over, and their caregivers, to provide information and resources, develop plans of care, assess for safety in the home, and refer as needed. We also provide information on how to access transportation and other community resources, how to navigate the social service system, help with housing, caregiver support and options counseling. Some of our programs include SCA and CHAMPSS. SCA (Senior Care Act) program is for persons 55+ in need of homemaking and bathing services and is offered on a sliding scale. We offer a CHAMPSS program, which stands for Choosing Healthy Appetizing Meal Plan Solutions for Seniors, a federally funded nutrition program to help seniors access meals in the dining areas of local Hy-Vee and Dillons stores. A CHAMPSS sign up and orientation is held at the library the first Monday of each month at 2:00pm.

The Lawrence Area Partners on Aging is sponsoring its 14th annual Senior Health Fair on March 12th from 9am to 1pm, at Rock Chalk Sports Park. Stop by the JAAA Booth for more information on our services.

Who Was Shelley Miller?

Shelley Miller. It's a name tossed around from time to time. Her face is on the New York School kid mural on the Kansas Key Press building at 9th and New Jersey -- lady with big eyes and long hair and the power to levitate over the neighborhood. Her name is on a plaque in the Community Resource room at New York Elementary, and used to hang outside the school teacher's lounge and kitchen. Recently, Phil posted a happy birthday to her on the ELNA facebook page, recalling her enthusiasm for fireworks. We hear there is even a pair of perfectly age-patinaed size nine cowboy boots, formerly Shelley's, still being passed around from friend to friend so loved ones can walk a mile in her shoes. We know her name, but who was she?

Shelley Miller died on March 1st, 1994, at the age of 40, after a battle with brain cancer. In honor and celebration of her life, friends and family produced a booklet, published by the University of Kansas Libraries, to preserve some of the stories and words shared at Shelley's memorial. This booklet, Shelley Miller: A Celebration of Her Life is a great resource for putting a person to the name. The majority of quotes and excerpts reproduced here are lifted from that book. If you'd like to read the booklet in its entirety, ask KT. She's got a few copies to loan.

Shelley was born in Illinois on January 17th, 1954. Her family moved to Lawrence, and she attended Lawrence public schools, graduating from KU with a degree in Spanish and Social Welfare, and got a Master of Library Science degree at UCLA. She traveled much and taught much, and acquired other degrees, later becoming bibliographer and head of the Department for Spain, Portugal, and Latin America at the University of Kansas Libraries. "She went far and wide in her life," a remembrance in the booklet says, "but East Lawrence was always home. It's always where she felt most comfortable and felt a kindred spirit."

Shelley gave much of her time to East Lawrence, serving as ELNA (then ELIA) president, vice-president, newsletter editor, coordinator, liaison with the City Commission and Planning Commission and CDAC. She was a founding member of the Lawrence Association of Neighborhoods and volunteered at New York Elementary, even though she wasn't a parent and didn't have a kid there. She just cared a lot about our neighborhood school. Shelley is responsible for starting the annual MLK Chili Feed with teachers and neighbors, and always prepared the vegetarian chili. The pencil drawing of Shelley displayed on the kitchen plaque (now in the Community Room just inside the school entrance) was lovingly hand drawn by a friend's mother.

When she knew she was about to die Shelley put her major assets into a foundation to support her favored causes. One major gift was to ECM, Ecumenical Campus Ministries, where it supported renovation of the kitchen, now known as the Shelley Miller Kitchen in honor of the gift and of her service. The trash racks -- wooden structures to hold trash cans to keep them from blowing down the alleys -- you can still see behind some East Lawrence homes were organized by Shelley Miller. Shelley was also an early host of the neighborhood free sale, holding it in her yard in the eighties and nineties.

One favorite neighborhood story about Shelley Miller is that people called her the "Ever Vigilant Neighborhood Bitch." The designation began, allegedly, after a City Commission meeting. Someone referred to Shelley as the Neighborhood Bitch because of her activism. Her response was to have t-shirts made up that said "Ever Vigilant Neighborhood Bitch". She and others wore them to future meetings. Another story says that Shelley used to run out into Pennsylvania Street to stop trucks, sometimes in her bathrobe. Trucks were then using Pennsylvania St to swing around and access industries and businesses that were on Delaware St and east. Truck Route ordinances prohibiting trucks on Pennsylvania were not being enforced, so Shelley would go out there and block the trucks (with herself) and give them a lesson in where they should and should not be driving through residential areas. Go Shelley!

Shelley Miller was a lover of well-loved things and earthiness, being described as a "disastrous housekeeper" in the memorial booklet. Phil says she loved fireworks and was a self-proclaimed Deadhead. The Fourth of July was her favorite, and she was known to host parties at her home at 936 Pennsylvania St. She also had bonfires, with fireworks, on the solstice. Shelley lived in Pennsylvania house for about 15 years, and at 14th and Mass before that, and so lived in East Lawrence much of her adult life. The painting of Shelley on the school mural is modeled after her 1972 LHS senior picture.

Shelley's eulogy says, she "lived for her friends, her neighbors, her political comrades, her fellow librarians, her family, and the downtrodden of society. Service...was the hallmark of her life." "She was loved by her friends and respected by her adversaries," another person said. Shelley Miller died twenty five years ago this month, but her generosity and fierce love for her neighborhood live on here in East Lawrence today.

Have You Heard About the HUB? --from neighbor Pat Kehde

Have you heard about The HUB project that is proposed for the 1000 block of Massachusetts and New Hampshire Streets? The Historic Resource Commission will consider this plan at their meeting on Thursday, March 21, 2019 at 6:30pm at City Hall.

The HUB project is a plan for one massive building that will house apartments for students. The building will cover the south end of the 1000 block, from Einstein's Bagels to 11th Street along Massachusetts, and extend along 11th across the alley to New Hampshire Street and then north to Maceli's. A three-level parking garage and some row house apartments would fill the middle of the east side of the block New Hampshire, between the Old English Lutheran Church and the Municipal Court building.

As the plan now stands, the building on Mass. St would be 65 feet 6 inches high (5 stories), and it would be 71 feet high (6 stories) along 11th St. and New Hampshire. It is designed as one huge building, though the façade treatments would have various colors and materials to try to make it look like there are separate buildings.

The HUB's total number of beds for students is 615. The total number of parking spaces available for those renters is 272. Thus, potentially 343 cars will need to park elsewhere, probably in Downtown and East Lawrence.

As a member of East Lawrence Neighborhood Association I think the size of this building could have a negative impact on the neighborhood: noise, traffic, and parking.

As a citizen and frequent user of Downtown services and store, I am concerned about the size, mass and scale of this project. It will tower over all the shops along Mass. St. and the Old English Lutheran Church and it is a few feet taller than both the Watkins Museum and the Douglas County Courthouse. Those three buildings are listed as landmark properties on the Lawrence Register of Historic Places.

As a taxpayer, I would like to see the hired consultants who are currently working on a Master Plan for Downtown, finish their plan in 6-9 months. Then the city can decide upon the HUB development.

For questions or concerns: Send emails to lzollner@lawrenceks.org with the Historic Resource Commission-the HUB in the Subject line, by March 18, 2019.

Rebuilding East Ninth Together Project Update

The Rebuilding East Ninth Team has updates to share about the progress of the project, including Resident Specialists, the first RFP for art, and Listening Session 3.

Resident Specialists

We are so pleased to announce that neighbors Marty Olson, Judy Romero, Brenda Nuñez, Janet Good, and Charlotte Pessoni have all agreed to serve as our Resident Specialists to the project. Each was selected for his or her personal expertise, unique knowledge and skills, and deep connection to the neighborhood. As stated in the job description, the Resident Specialists will support artists and the project by sharing personal histories, collecting oral histories, and researching East Lawrence's rich past. We look forward to working with them!

RFP

We are also very pleased to announce that the first RFP (Request for Proposals) has been released as of Monday February 18th. The most important things you need to know are that project proposals are NOT limited to traditional visual art, the art does NOT have to be on 9th Street itself, and the deadline to submit a proposal is April 5th, 2019 with a project completion date of April 19, 2020. The payment for each accepted project is $13,500, to be paid in 4 installments. Initial payment can be invoiced upon contract approval. Lack of capital for up-front expenses should not be a barrier to application.

There will have been an RFP Support and Info Session on February 24th, before the date of this newsletter publication, and another scheduled for just after the YART Sale, on March 30th from 1:30-3:30, Meeting Room A, Lawrence Public Library. The team will also have open office hours Wednesdays, March 6, 20, & 27, 5:30-6PM, Study Room 3, Lawrence Public Library, or anytime by appointment.

We are committed to attracting creative individuals from diverse artistic and cultural backgrounds. Artists from all mediums, traditional to unorthodox, as well as emerging artists who are new to the field of public art are encouraged to apply. There are no residency requirements for this opportunity, but applicants should be aware that the project is community based and will require a connection to or an understanding of the East Lawrence neighborhood.

Please read the entire RFP, with details on how to submit a proposal on the project website <https://www.rebuildingeastninth.com/artists>. Support and mentorship is available. Please reach out if you have any questions or concerns to Project Facilitator Mandy Enfield 9th-streetmandy@gmail.com, or any team member.

Listening Session 3

Listening Session 3 will take place on Sunday March 3rd, from 2-5pm at the newly remodeled Santa Fe Depot at 7th and New York Streets. The goal of this interactive (doodle-listen-speak) gathering is to wrap up the work from our previous meetings and solidify the values that will be used to guide the art selection for the project. We will update everyone on the Team's progress, share ideas, and answer questions. Your feedback is essential as it will directly impact art selection. Folks interested in submitting Youth Corps or project proposals are also strongly encouraged to attend. This is the final input session before artist recruitment begins.

Do be sure to check out the project website. In addition to the full RFP, there you'll find an updated timeline of the project, all input and materials collected thus far and other historical documents.

River Clean Up — Save the Date

ELNA will partner with Friends of the Kaw again this year for our spring river clean up. The Kansas River Big Cleanup event will take place on April 27th. Watch for a Facebook event and a flyer and more details to come in early March.

Prairie Block Project on The Burroughs Creek Trail

Prairie Block is happening this spring!

What is Prairie Block? It's a native prairie restoration with a picnic shelter and an extension of the Lawrence Community Orchard at Burroughs Creek Park and along the Burroughs Creek Trail between 14th and 15th Streets. The goal is to beautify the park and trail, attract pollinators, grow more free fruit for the community, and better manage watershed health by reducing pollution and sedimentation in the creek. It will be the first public prairie restoration in East Lawrence and will serve our neighborhood with eco-education opportunities and a healthier environment.

Prairie Block will also serve as a demonstration site for urban prairie restorations along trails, greenways, and parks throughout Lawrence. Over time, Parks and Rec will share their urban prairie management expertise with maintenance crews at the City, KU, and others so the knowledge gained will be passed along.

Twelve KU School of Architecture students have been working with Lawrence Parks and Rec, Westar's Green Team, Struct/ReStruct and neighbors in East Lawrence and Brook Creek and Barker on designing and building the shelter. Thanks to everyone who provided input on the Prairie Block designs at the Seed Fair February 9th and the Community Design Review on February 13th.

Thanks to other partners including Sculptor Karl Ramberg, prairie ecologist Courtney Masterson, Lawrence Fruit Tree Project for their expertise, and Douglas County Natural & Cultural Heritage Grant Program, Jayhawk Audubon, Kansas Biological Survey, Grassland Heritage Foundation, Friends of the Kaw, Native Lands LLC, Friends of Lawrence Area Trails, and Friends of the Kaw for their support. We'd also like to thank Cottin's Hardware who have kindly stepped up to provide materials and equipment to the students as they construct the shade structure. RD Johnson Excavating Company is generously donating several large limestone boulders for the pathway and creek access.

HOLD THE DATE Join us June 1 for a Prairie Block Party on National Prairie Day and National Trails Day! There will be a ribbon-cutting, live music, food, hands-on kids' eco- and art activities, walking tours, trails events and info on all things buggy, birdy, butterfly-y, and bike-y from local nonprofits to celebrate our prairies and trails.

LOVE THY NEIGHBOR signs for sale

This summer, the Mission and Service Board at Plymouth Congregational Church bought over 250 Love Thy Neighbor yard signs. (You may be familiar with the signs -- green, blue and orange, with text in Spanish, English, and Arabic.) We overestimated the demand. In order to recoup our investment in the signs, so that the money can be put to use for other service projects, we are selling the signs at cost, which is $6. If interested, contact Mission and Service Board Chair Michelle Ward at ward67846@gmail.com.

Downtown Master Plan

Background: Through the City's strategic planning process, the City Commission identified a priority initiative of creating a Downtown Master Plan that includes identifying needed and desirable assets, identifying existing infrastructure and uses, and discovering potential uses and obstacles in response to the critical success factor of Economic Growth and Security. The desire is to create a sustainable plan that recognizes the existing successful nature of downtown and enhances downtown by incorporating innovative and creative initiatives through intensive stakeholder and community input.

The plan will explore all elements of a master plan including, but not limited to, land use relationships, opportunities for development and redevelopment, programming of public space, landscaping, transportation, infrastructure and streetscape, with a heavy emphasis on cultural and historical resources and activities.

Houseal Lavigne Associates (HLA) was selected through a Request for Proposals (RFP) process in October 2018 to be the City's consultant on the plan. The project website at <http://www.hlplanning.com/portals/lawrence/> contains more information on the process and ways to get involved including news, surveys, interactive maps and mapping tools, workshop dates, focus groups, and the names and contacts of the Downtown Master Plan Steering Committee members. Meeting dates and minutes of the Downtown Master Plan Steering Committee meetings will be available on that site as well. All questions or comments may also be directed to downtown-plan@lawrenceks.org. You can sign up to receive email updates for the Downtown Master Plan (and other City news) at <https://lawrenceks.org/subscriptions/>.

Rhode Island Street neighbor Todd Foster is the East Lawrence representative to the Downtown Master Plan Steering Committee. Todd can be reached at toddafoster@gmail.com.

Community Workshops were scheduled for the week of February 4th, but were cancelled due to weather. Additional input opportunities will be scheduled in the near future. Check the project website for those workshop dates.
